IN RIGHT EARNEST

At the outset, I would like to wholeheartedly thank you, dear member, for having reposed confidence in us by electing the same team to manage the affairs of the club for one more year. The Managing committee has elected me to serve as Hon. Secretary and Samir Saldanha will be the Joint Hon. Secretary for this year.

The Football World cup has just concluded in Russia. Thirty-two teams came with a desire to compete and in the end, the team that won did so because it followed the best processes. Closer to home, at the club, last year's Hon. Secretary Isaac Vas and the committee has already put processes and systems in place through a 'MANUAL OF PROCEDURES', standardizing the operations of the club. The new committee will build on this. Continuity will be the key aspect of our plans this year in every sphere. The green initiative and innovations in the food and beverage section will continue. Plans are afoot for the next round of infrastructure development. Sports, entertainment and other events are poised to surge to the next level. Thanks to editor Dr. Siddarth Shetty the mouth piece of our club MC LIVE is widely read and appreciated.

A new subcommittee for Strategic Planning is in place to handle the challenges of space and infrastructure that we will face. Isaac Vas will be heading this. Ours is a Members club, each one of you owns a part of it and your say matters. We in the committee are just first amongst equals. Let's collectively take MC to greater heights in right earnest this year!

THE EDITORS DESK

There's a saying, 'change is not always progress'. The members at the club have kept this in mind and expressed their confidence in the old team that did a wonderful job of managing club affairs. Well, that aside, I'm back in the editors seat due to the benevolence of the powers that be.

I take this opportunity to thank the gifted do-gooders who cover events, interview members and write columns for the newsletter. Team MC Live includes the following- The cerebral professor CA Lionel Aranha, The Ophthalmologist with a literary bent of mind Dr. Ajay Kamath, The lyrical Ramona

Mathias and her playwright sis Rajni Lobo-Patrao, the intrepid Nayana Rose Fernandes, our travel reporter Leah Mascarenhas, Hon. Sec. Ganesh Kamath himself who has contributed a interview to remember, Kevin Vas who's designed the layout and the look. The newbies in the team are Dr. Karthik Shetty and Lyn D'Souza. Last but not the least we have the secretive 'Epicurean Foodie' who has penned many an ode to the gastronomic delights of MC. The first issue of this new volume covers a new dish on the menu, and a lot of club news. Read on!

EAT - BHARWAN MURG (STUFFED CHICKEN GRAVY)

This is a new entrant to the MC lineup of smacktacular renditions and what an amazing innovation this is. The erstwhile masala stuffing is now passé. Chicken takes its place. Confused? Don't be. It's quite simple really- chicken Kheema stuffed inside chicken! Chicken Kheema is blended with a range of spices and marinated to ensure that the flavours ooze from each morsel. It is then enveloped by chicken and masala and roasted in ghee to perfection. This isn't all. pureed tomato and minced onion is blended and added to a bouillon and cooked to form a thick consistency gravy. This gravy is then added to the chicken and is braised well. The resultant culinary pastiche is a medley of flavors which dance a unique tune with each bite. The Bharwan Murgh goes well with a roti/naan or rice as a side or even holds its own as a heavy appetizer.
